

Phd. Arch Eranda Shalsi is graduated in architecture in Polytechnic University of Tirana, Faculty of Construction Engineering. She has finished Master of second level in “Architectonic, Urban and Sustainable Design with innovative technologies” in “Federico II” University, Naples, Italy. She has terminated doctoral studies in architecture near University of Pisa, Faculty of Construction Engineering “Leonardo da Vinci” , Italy. The academic experience begun as professor and was followed as Chief Department of Architecture during 6 years. Now she is Director of Arki lab, at Adriapol Institute.